

Bruno Tshibala (Profile)

Prime Minister (DRC)

A founding member of the opposition UDPS, and close friends of the late Etienne Tshisekedi, Bruno Tshibala was appointed Prime Minister of the DRC in May 2017. His appointment was part of a deal between the government and the opposition that aims to ensure that President Kabila steps down by the end of 2017. However, in reality, Tshibala wields little power in a government in which President Kabila's cronies occupy all key positions.
