

Hassan Allam Holding (Profile)

Construction & Real Estate

Hassan Allam Holding (“HAH”) is a power player known to domestic and international investors. However, a degree of opacity surrounds the company’s ownership structure and management team, making it difficult to obtain a clear picture of who ultimately controls it – an unusual development for such a high-profile commercial actor. As such, strong due diligence is recommended to foreign investors with one eye on HAH as a prospective partner.

Included with this profile is a map of the groups corporate interests and known directors.
