Sovereign Wealth Fund

Fewer entities straddle the political and economic divide today quite like Saudi Arabia's Public Investment Fund. It is the vehicle of choice for the Kingdom's 'golden boy', Mohammed bin Salman, whose desire to upend the old status quo is affording PIF a special status. Its political exposure may present an area of concern for Western investors, but ambition and financial power could yet make everyone a winner. Close monitoring of this key sovereign wealth fund will unlock the door to lucrative and less politically exposed opportunities.
