

Sindika Dokolo (Profile)

Businessman

Sindika Dokolo is a Congolese businessman and the son in law of former Angolan President José Eduardo dos Santos. Well known for his critically-acclaimed collection of African art, in recent months Dokolo has attracted attention for his criticisms against DRC President Joseph Kabila. Enjoying long-established relations with both members of Angola's government and the DRC's opposition, in an eventual post-Kabila scenario, Dokolo could be key to maintaining Angola's influence in the DRC.
