

Rumen Porodzanov (Profile)

Bulgaria's Minister of Agriculture, Forestry and Food

Rumen Porodzanov is one of the most controversial Ministers serving in the current Bulgarian cabinet. He has been tied, on various occasions, to allegations related to the questionable distribution of EU subsidies in agricultural sector. Although these accusations have never been proven, they have somewhat marred his overall public profile; however, not to the detriment of his political career and his perceived relationship with Prime Minister Boyko Borisov. Porodzanov remains an influential political actor, particularly within the agricultural sector.
