

Hussain Al Nowais (Profile)

Chairman, WAHA Capital

The UAE is home to a number of successful businessmen, but none more so than Hussain Al Nowais. As the man responsible for elevating the family's fortunes, he has built up considerable experience making strategic investments both at home and abroad. Several government mandated appointments give him ties to the centre of power in Abu Dhabi, although this is not necessarily a cause for concern. The man that has everything is now turning his attention to much great challenges; those besetting a nation.

Included with this personality profile is an indicative directorship map.
